

Professional Studio Portraits
in the comfort of your home.

Jamie, your photographer, is a creative professional with 30 years experience as both a graphic designer and professional photographer. Portrait photography is one of his areas of expertise. All of Jamie's photographic work requires him to shoot on location. For portrait photography, he is able to set up a portable studio environment in relatively little space and with minimal disruption to your home.

Great portraits come from the skillful use of professional lighting, backgrounds, lenses and cameras. This used to be best achieved in a fixed studio. However, with today's technology, mdm can carry out a professional 'studio' photoshoot in the comfort of your home.

Images show mdm's portable studio equipment.

Your space, your time, for your best shot.

Young children photograph well as they have few inhibitions. As we get older, getting into the right 'state of mind', especially faced with the unfamiliar surrounding of a photographic studio, can be a little daunting. A portable studio setup in your home, in your surroundings, at a time that suits you, can make all the difference!

A shoot at home not only means you're more relaxed and comfortable, it removes the time and logistics of getting yourself and others to a studio. You'll also have the added bonus of preparing for the shoot at home. For instance, all your clothing options are already to hand.

The familiar surroundings of your home also work especially well when photographing small children, babies and pets.

Unlike others,
mdm charges
only for its time.
All images are yours to keep.

“Given that we both have busy careers and a nine month old daughter, having Jamie bring a mobile studio to our home was wonderfully convenient. It has helped us to capture a very special stage in our lives forever.”

Mr & Mrs Eshelby, Reigate, Surrey.

mdm photography will supply you with the entire photoshoot as an online digital download link, or on disk, as part of the fee. You get to keep the entire photoshoot in digital high resolution to use as you wish, forever!

In addition, you can view your online proofing gallery and select up to 5 images for more advanced enhancement. This includes moderate retouch and/or converting the selected images to black and white.

mdm photography can also provide professional prints to any size should you require this, at an additional cost.

Most portrait photoshoots can be achieved within a half day time frame. Half day rates are from £400 incl. VAT. Travel costs included within the Surrey area. Call or email Jamie today to arrange your shoot.
